

ABSTRACT

The present invention relates to allelic variants of human Spinocerebellar ataxia 2 (SCA2) gene and provides allele-specific primers and probes suitable for detecting these allelic variants for applications such as molecular diagnosis, prediction of an individual's disease susceptibility, and/or the genetic analysis of SCA2 gene in a population.

09707919-110800